

Product Information

ShowSpeakers.com™ A Presentation Medium

Network Designs, Inc. has implemented an internet video streaming solution. Individuals who cannot attend your conference because of schedule or budget conflicts, or an attendee who wants to review the speech, can view audio/video clips and PowerPoint presentations via ShowSpeakers.com. This site hosts your trade show, training, business meeting and/or conference—in real time or within hours after keynote speakers and panelists have made their presentations—based on your needs.

Our solution helps reduce the cost to employers in both travel and time spent away from the office. A company or institution can host the conference for multiple attendees from a central location using real-time video streaming. Or, you can supply CDs of the conference, allowing companies and institutions to “attend” when time permits. Either way, your audience can still get the technical content when they can’t afford to leave their home base. ShowSpeakers.com™ makes your conference accessible on a world-wide basis, possibly attracting a larger audience to your message.
